

How To Take A Green Vacation

Dear Fellow Vacationer, You might have heard about eco-vacations or green vacations before. Maybe you've even thought about going on an eco-vacation but decided against it because well, you really weren't sure if you wanted to spend your hard-earned money and well-deserved time roughing it in the wilderness, sleeping on the ground, and eating stuff you picked off some bushes along the trail to Camp Without a Bathroom. Stop right there because you've got it all wrong. Just because a vacation is eco-friendly or green, you don't have to give up creature comforts, do things you don't want to do, or spend a whole lot of time and money doing it. As a matter of fact, going on a green vacation can be easier to plan, more indulgent than you imagined, far less expensive than you thought and much more fun than any vacation you've taken - ever! And you can find out exactly how to do it, which companies are trustworthy, what to pack, and dozens of other useful tips in How to Take a Green Vacation. This book shows you how to take the ultimate green vacation for you - no matter your age, physical ability, or gender. When you read about the variety of options available in How to Take a Green Vacation, you're sure to find one or more vacations that suit your taste, style, budget and comfort level. If you thought a green vacation was all about camping, think again. I'm not saying that camping isn't green or eco-friendly, because it is - if you do the right things (see page 14 to find out what these are). But staying in a hotel can also be a part of your green vacation - if you stay in certain hotels. Chapter 2 tells you which hotels are going the extra mile in providing green products and practicing eco-friendly habits. How to Take a Green Vacation provides complete contact information - address, phone numbers, websites, reservation links, and what exactly each hotel is doing to help the environment. If you want heart-pumping action, look no further than the eco-tour companies listed in Chapter 8. You'll definitely get every penny's worth in excitement, spectacular views, and adventures that will last you a lifetime. If you want rest, relaxation and pampering, fret no more. Chapter 4 takes you on some luxury vacations that will have you feeling like royalty. Find out which five star resorts around the world give you the ultimate feeling of indulgence - all the while doing it with the improvement of the environment in mind. Now, you might be thinking, It sounds like I have to spend a lot of money to go on a green vacation. You really don't. As a matter of fact, many of the eco-resorts mentioned in How to Take a Green Vacation, as well as most of the vacation options, are quite affordable. Some eco-vacation organizations even pay for your food, room, transportation, and some incidental fees! Find out why and which ones in Chapter 9. Are green vacations only for the young and the fit? Of course not! Everybody deserves a vacation, and everybody deserves a chance to give back to the Earth. That's why it's absolutely possible for everyone from all walks of life, at any age and any physical level of comfort to enjoy a holiday while doing good things for the planet. For instance, Chapter 6 features eco-tour companies that specialize in providing customized green vacations for people with special needs or disabilities. If you're over 50 years old, Chapter 7 gives you a list of companies that not only give you a discount, but also provide you with the perfect amount of activity and relaxation - all while making a huge difference in taking care of the planet! How about families? Chapter 5 of How to Take a Green Vacation shows you places around the globe that you can take your family to enjoy, appreciate, and value the planet that we live on. The information in How to Take a Green Vacation is so complete that you won't need to do anything but decide when you want to go - and where.

How to Take a Green Vacation offers practical advice on how you can do your part to save the planet. If we all make little changes together we can make a huge difference. Aventouras intimate trips in seven countries include stays at a guesthouse in the Andes and dinner with a Costa Rican family (800-930-2846 or www.aventouras.com). So we book out 2 night vacation and were told if we dont show up, we get billed the entire price of the full price of what our stay would have been. My husband and I just purchased a Blue Green sampler 24 vacation package . The BG timeshare is a great club if you learn the system and are able to use it. Bluegreen Vacations offers guests the extraordinary experience of vacation ownership with exciting destinations. Get Away with Bluegreen Vacations Offers. Green travel is not a passing trend but a portable lifestyle choice. . Millions of Americans take cruise vacations every year, the nonprofit CruiseCares offers a way to take a green vacation. If you are planning an escape, but youre worried about the environmental impact of your travels, here are a few ways to get out and about. Though flying hasnt become less harmful to the environment, you may be able to minimize your carbon footprint by taking a green vacation. In Mission Valley, take the Trolleys Green Line to the Fashion Valley Transit Center and board Route 120 that runs limited-stop service to 4th & Laurel, just two blocks away. Buy How To Take A Green Vacation: Read Kindle Store Reviews - . Just because youre going on vacation, that doesnt mean you should take a vacation from your eco-friendly habits. Even away from the comfort of home, you can still be green. But a green vacation does not have to be about the natural environment. Just strolling or biking around a new city - say, Boston, or Paris - is an easy and green way to travel. Taking a green approach to travel is an easy and essential way to protect the places you love to visit, not just for yourself but for the travelers.